NORTH CAROLINA JUSTICE ACADEMY

Quality training for criminal justice professionals

May 2017

Welcome our New Director – Trevor Allen

The North Carolina Justice Academy is excited to tell you about Trevor Allen our new director. Allen was born in Michigan but migrated south with his family and was raised in Wilmington. In 1992, he graduated from Catawba College and will be completing his Master's Degree in Criminal Justice from Methodist University in August.

After college graduation, he completed BLET and joined the Salisbury Police Department in 1993. He rose through the ranks to eventually become a Lieutenant. Allen is a former Specialized Instructor in SCAT, Physical Fitness, and RADAR. After 15 years, he decided to try a new career.

Having attended culinary school, he moved to Charleston, SC to help his family open a quick-casual restaurant. The restaurant gradually expanded to seven franchises; however, Allen realized he missed his first calling.

In 2012, Allen returned to law enforcement training and joined former NC Justice Academy Instructor/Coordinator Jon Blum at FORCE Concepts, Inc. This allowed him to travel around the United States delivering instruction and consulting services in the Use of Force arena.

A year later, Allen joined the Criminal Justice Standards Division of NCDOJ and he was promoted to Deputy Director in 2014. Just this year he was again promoted, this time as Director of the North Carolina Justice Academy. Attorney General Josh Stein said, "Trevor's history in law enforcement, along with his commitment to training and recruiting public-spirited law enforcement officers, makes him a great fit for the Justice Academy."

On a more personal note, Allen lives in Cary with his wife Sarah and twin 9-year old stepsons and two dogs. His passions include road cycling, Swiss watches, the Carolina Hurricanes, Detroit Red Wings and Michigan Wolverines. He does not care for Blue Cheese but enjoys Beef Pho, a Vietnamese soup, while watching a movie with his favorite actor, Robert Duvall.

It may also be important to know that he does not like to hear, "That's the way we've always done it." And he believes you are either "getting better, or you're getting worse."

One day Allen would like to hang with the crazies on Dutch Corner of Alpe d'Huez during the Tour de France. But for now, he is extremely honored to be leading the North Carolina Justice Academy as only its fifth director in 40+ years. Welcome!
