

NORTH CAROLINA HUMAN TRAFFICKING COMMISSION

The North Carolina Human Trafficking Commission (HTC), housed in and staffed by the North Carolina Judicial Branch, is the legislatively mandated leader of anti-human trafficking efforts in North Carolina per S.L. 2013-368. The Commission is charged with:

- Examining and combating human trafficking
- Funding and facilitating research
- Creating measurement, assessment, and accountability measures
- Suggesting new policies, procedures, and legislation
- Informing and educating law enforcement personnel, social services providers, and the general public
- Developing regional response teams
- Identifying gaps in law enforcement or service provision and recommending solutions

Thanks to the work of the North Carolina Human Trafficking Commission, North Carolina received an “A” rating in the national fight against human trafficking, according to a 2019 report produced by Shared Hope International. North Carolina’s report card rating of 94 is an improvement from the 90 rating received in 2018 and a significant improvement from the 61 (or D) rating in 2011. North Carolina’s ranking among states improved from 9th in 2018 to 8th overall over the past year.

UNDER FEDERAL AND NORTH CAROLINA LAW:

- Minors involved in any commercial sexual activity;
- Adults induced into commercial sexual activity through force, fraud, or coercion; and
- Children and adults induced to perform labor or services through force, fraud, or coercion

... ARE VICTIMS OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING.

22 U.S.C. §§ 7101-7113 (2014) | N.C. General Statutes § 14-43.10(a) (2013)
